

Dotty Schmitt

Dotty Schmitt's three books, The Delight of Being His Daughter, The Bride Wears Combat Boots, and the Threshold of Glory summarize the main passions of her life – learning to enjoy the healing love of the Father, cultivating a deep intimacy of relationship with Jesus, the Bridegroom of our souls and moving in the glory of God's presence. Dotty travels increasingly among God's people who are hungering for more of God's manifest Presence and for a deeper revelation of the Word of God.

Dotty and her husband, Charles, the senior pastor of Immanuel's Church, have been passionate expositors of the Scriptures for more than 55 years. Dotty has a degree in Philosophy from Queens College in New York City. She also attended Biblical Seminary in New York City. Dotty has a Master of Arts in Pastoral Theology from Logos Christian College, in Jacksonville, Florida. Her deep desire is to know the Lord more intimately, and to experience the power of His Word in every circumstance of daily life. Dotty's love for the Word of God and for the Glory of His presence is imparted to all those to whom she ministers.

Dotty is on the pastoral staff on Immanuel's Church in Silver Spring, Maryland and carries a vision and burden for the wider Body of Christ. The Schmitt's have three married daughters, all on staff at Immanuel's Church, and five delightful grandchildren.
